THE ARAB FILM FESTIVAL

Your generous support allows us to bring inspiring and thought-provoking films from the Arab diaspora to our local and national audiences

For 20 years, the Arab American National Museum's annual Arab Film Festival (AFF) has amplified the voices and stories of marginalized communities while building bridges between diverse groups through film, art and dialogue. Each year, thousands of viewers from across the nation gather to enjoy critically acclaimed and award-winning films by both Arab and Arab American artists. AFF has proudly provided a platform for emerging and established filmmakers from the Arab diaspora to showcase their work and share their stories, making AFF one of AANM's most prized and popular events.
